

Construction Latent Defects Insurance

Introduction

Our latent defect insurance team has expertise in placing the most appropriate insurance cover for our clients at the most-effective rates.

We ensure our clients are suitably covered by an established underwriter and deliver an unrivalled service; client satisfaction is at the core of our proposition. Price Forbes is a leading London market broker with a specialist construction team delivering expert risk solutions for our clients.

What we offer

- We provide specialist market knowledge whilst ensuring that we deliver a first-rate service. We offer access to all markets and provide our clients with expert advice when arranging terms.
- We demonstrate whole market comparison against your usual provider and match the project specification to the most appropriate insurer terms.
- We work with A-rated underwriting capacity and provide competitive premiums against the traditional markets. These providers are well recognised, have full lender acceptance and compliant with mortgage lenders.
